MORE ROOM NEEDED

To Carry On the Work That Has Already Been Started.

There are some people who can never see anything good come out of people who have done wrong and lived a bad life for some time.

These same people will not even encourage anyone who is trying to do something to get these people to live a better life.

When the Mission Sunday school was started they laughed at the idea and told those engaged in the work it would not be a success—that the people for whom it was intended would go for awhile, but soon get tired and quit. But that isn't so. The longer the Mission School runs the more people there are who attend and are interested in the work.

But there are several other branches of work now going on that our people know nothing of.

But few people know of the grand work that is being done in the First Ward in the way of mission work.

Monday and Tuesday nights a cottage prayer meeting is held, and there are from 75 to 150 in attendance at each meeting.

Last night the meeting was held at the residence of William Setters on Short street, and about 120 were in attendance, showing these people are interested in themselves at least and are willing to do almost anything to lead better lives.

At the meeting last night there were about twenty conversations, and at every meeting yet held the same is true.

But what is better than these same people are not found in the church on Sunday instead of going fishing or playing ball or some game on that day.

Now, what is needed is room, a room large enough to accommodate the crowd that attend these prayer meetings, the rooms of the good people's residences being too small by far.

There are just any number of places empty or not used of a night that could be given for this grand work, but the ones used in this have been unable thus far to secure a place.

The greatest obstacle in the way is the fact that very few of these people can read, and there has been opened in addition to the above a night school for the purpose of educating them.

Now who will say they are not in favor of home missions as carried on this way?

More teachers are needed, and more money to buy books and other necessities for the work. If you are interested in this, let me be sure to have you come to the meetings and carry on the grand work already begun.

Some of the best ladies of our city are engaged in this work, and if the people think they are not doing a good work just let them attend one of these prayer meetings and carry on the grand work we are having.

There will be, before another week passes, a public meeting in every house in the West End that has none, so that the ladies can go to the homes and teach there through the day.

Now, won't the good people who have the means and time and influence use them in the interest of home missions and fallen humanity, and help those in the work already going on in our city?

Remember these people are here to stay, and if we can do them any good let us do it, as it is our duty.

THEY'RE WIDE AWAKE.

Republican State Committee Meets in Danville—Rules Revised.

One of the most important meetings in the history of the present Republican State Central Committee was that held in Danville Thursday afternoon.

There were present Chairman John W. Yerkes, Secretary William E. Riley, David G. Colson, Dr. Benjamin Thacker, D. N. Comingore and Tom L. Walker, proxy of R. A. Hancock. R. D. Hill and W. J. Debow were also represented by proxies.

Business of the greatest importance, covering several questions of vital interest not only to Republicans but to all of the people of the state, was taken up and disposed of.

There will be a rattling of dry bones when work is begun on the lines mapped out by the committee.

After disposing of the secret work the committee took up and made a thorough revision of the rules of the Republican organization of Kentucky, making several important changes in the same. These rules will be printed in a pamphlet at once and distributed to the County Committees throughout the state.

It is not generally known that of the nine states in the Union in which the Republicans are governed by rules of organization, etc., seven were modeled after the rules of the Republican party of Kentucky, the Republicans of this state being the first to adopt uniform rules and by laws.

The members of the committee are wide awake to the situation, and will use that organization to promote victory in the elections this fall, as well as get the party in condition for the great contest next year.

Home-Seekers' Excursion.

On May 29th the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern Railway will sell excursion tickets to Home-Seekers to points in Missouri, Arkansas, Kansas, Indian Territory, Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, Utah, Wyoming, Idaho, Montana, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota, Manitoba, Minnesota and Iowa. Tickets will be good to return within thirty days, and will permit liberal stop-over privileges. This will afford an excellent chance for all who are contemplating going West to do so at a minimum cost. As a good beginning insures a good ending, we hope the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern should be the route which the trip is begun.

Announcement.

Yielding to the wishes of friends in many quarters of the Ninth Congressional District, I have concluded to submit my name as a candidate for the nomination for Congress subject to the will of the Republican Convention to be held at Augusta June 12th.

THOMAS A. DAVIS,
Maysville, Ky., May 18th, 1894.

AMONG the envoys of the Sherman Law and the McKinley Tariff was the snow storm of Sunday morning.

EVERY manufacturing town should petition Congress to reduce GROVER CLEVELAND's salary to $25,000 a year and to defer action on the Tariff Bill until after the fall elections.

The Editor of The Public Ledger announced himself as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress Saturday. And that night it snowed—bulletin.

Thanks, awfully; and that is the best thing you ever said—even if it wasn't original.

THESE are not THE LEDGER'S "croaks." They are simply "howls" from the industries and workmen that were promised such prosperity—when Mr. CLEVELAND and the Democratic party got into power:

McKERSHOP, Pa., May 15th.—The National Tube Works has shut down, the 3,200 employees having struck for a restoration of the 20 per cent. reduction in wages made in February.

New BRUNSWICK, May 15th.—The New Jersey Rubber Shoe Company, a branch of the United States Rubber Company of this city, will resume work today, after a shut down of six weeks. About 700 operatives are employed and the enforced idleness has been fully felt.

FALL RIVER, May 11th.—The following notice was posted in the Barnaby Gingham Mills today:

"Our Employees, owing to the insults heaped upon us by the present administration at Washington, and the idiotic legislation now going on in Congress, the result of which we are perfectly sure will bring us to ruin, went out on May 12th, 1894. S. A. ASHLBY."

The Barnaby Mills employ 400 hands and have a weekly payroll of $3,000.

REPUBLICAN Protection is as natural as the flag and as impartial as the sun-light. It oppresses none and opens the gate of opportunity for all. It guards the interests of the South as carefully as those of the North; it gives the sheep grower and beef raiser of the Western prairies the same defense as the woolen manufacturer and the sugar refiner of the East. The nondescript thing of abroad and patches now before the Senate is a sham and a lie. Condemned by Republicans, despised by honest Democrats, polluted with fraud and tainted with sectional hatred, it has no real friends in the Senate but purchased ones, and its death would be hailed with delight from New York to Oregon. No Northern and no Western Senator can support this iniquitous scheme of injustice, of robbery and of destruction without confessing himself a traitor to the interests of his constituents and an enemy to prosperity of his country. No bill which plunders the people by putting an unjustifiable price upon the necessities of life, which destroys the wool, the salt and the lumber interests of the North and which reduces the wages of Northern workmen to the pauper level, can be allowed to pass the Senate of the United States.

THE recent disastrous earthquake in Venezuela is directly traceable to the McKinley Tariff. Just why the Democrats don't repeat it, as they promised to do, is beyond comprehension.

If the Wilson Bill is responsible for the hard times, the Democratic party is to blame for inflicting it. If, on the other hand, the Wilson Bill is the remedy for hard times, the Democratic party is to blame for not promptly administering it. There is no possible way for the "tariff reform" party to escape popular condemnation.

UNDERTAKERS COMPETING.

In Indiana They Say Business Was Never Known to Be So Dull.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 16th.—The Indiana Funeral Directors' Association is having its annual meeting here. The membership is 250 out of 650 in the business in Indiana. The membership complain of bad business, saying the death rate was never so low.

We know the times were phenomenally bad; but never expected to live to see the day when people couldn't afford to die even under a Democratic Administration as bad as this one is. Next.

STAND FIRM,

Says President John McBride to His Striking Miners.

The Coal Famine is Cutting a Very Big Figure in the Matter.

The American Railway Union's Co-operation With the Strikers. Merrill Thibault, Is the Drawing of New Era in the Labor Union World.

COLUMBUS, O., May 22.—President McBride received a telegram Monday morning from J. F. Clarkson, president of the Iowa miners' organization, saying—"Everything is in good shape in this state, and we have complete control."

President McBride says he has waived his order that no coal shall be mined anywhere, for any price, while the strike continues.

The superintendent of the Illinois insane asylum, at Kankakee, wired him that a thousand helpless inmates were suffering from lack of fuel, and saying that the company that furnished the coal would agree to mine only what was needed by the miners if it allowed him to mine this. This request was promptly granted on the conditions proposed. The other case was in southern Ohio, where a mine was on fire. The operator of it wired that they had only one car-load of coal left to run the mine. If the miners did not strike, the mine would be lost. They did not change that the miners had set the mine on fire, but President McBride issued an order permitting coal to be mined to run the pumps. Speaking of the railroad employees meeting Sunday, addressed to the miners, President McBride said a new era was dawning in the labor union world. Their complete independence was coming to be recognized by the members, and with it the old jealousies between unions of different crafts was disappearing. He referred to the miners as the most sympathetic to him. Last week, when he addressed the Amalgamated Iron Workers at Cleveland, and by the railroad men here. "The time is quickly coming," said he, "when, if any class of workers is contending for fair treatment and a just government, it can turn to the union labor army, until their case of complaint has at least been given respectful attention. No fear that such an organization would be tyrannical. It would have over it always the safe governor of public opinion, and it need not demand anything more than justice."

President McBride thinks the relations of railway employees and miners are so close that they can well take the initiative in this matter of co-operation. "The American Railway Union," said he, "is going to be the center of the co-operation of salaried employees." He expects much aid to the miners' cause from its co-operation.

Mr. McBride is greatly encouraged over the strike outlook, and thinks that victory will soon perch upon the banners of the miners, as the families of the non-union miners are now, with the operators, by which over half of the striking miners could go to work, but the ranks of the miners will not be broken, and they will stand firm until a complete victory rests with them.

He was escorted before the bar of the house by Congressman George H. Vandeveer, who was administered the oath. Cries when the formal ceremonies were completed there was a burst of applause from the democratic side, which the new congressional blushingly acknowledged by bowing. Then arm in arm with Mr. Oberholtzer, a congressman, Sorg walked down the main aisle to the former seat, where nearly all the members of the democratic side pressed about to welcome and congratulate the new member.

Breckinridge Wins Not Withdrawn.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—It is stated here that a committee on his way from the South called on Col. Edward Breckinridge, to ask him to withdraw from the congressional campaign in favor of his son, Dasha. The committee, it is said, will promise the nomination to young Breckinridge if the father consents to withdraw. A correspondent from the South telegraphed to the reporter Monday morning, and he replied that he had heard of the rumor. In view, however, of the recent scandal and his desire for a "windfall," Col. Breckinridge said he would not consent to any such arrangement.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 22.—The severe frosts of Saturday and Monday morning played havoc with grain and fruit growing in the state. The damage will be the most damage ever done in the tier of lake shore counties, extending from a point about fifty miles north of Milwaukee southward to the Illinois line. This territory experienced the first frost of the season, and the temperature in some places fell formally one-quarter of an inch thick. Spring and winter wheat, barley, oats, corn and pastures, owing to the earliness of the season, were two weeks advanced and have undoubtedly suffered severely. The fruit trees were budding and were badly nipped.

A Need of Life-Savers.

CHICAGO, May 22.—The need of legislation on the life-saving service in Chicago was earnestly urged at the meeting of the Trades assembly Monday evening. As a result of debate, a committee was appointed to consider some plan of action, probably in the form of a motion to call a meeting of the various departments for an extension of the service, or, failing in this, an effort to interest business men of the city in the establishment of a local corps.

THE SITUATION IN HAWAII.

MONDAY'S Constitution Convention Dispersed Under No Fear of Rioting or Evicting a Corp. SAN FRANCISCO, May 22.—The United States correspondent at Honolulu, writing under date of May 15, per steamship "Grecian," which arrived Monday evening, says: "The makeup of the constitutional convention, which is to meet on the 30th inst., furnishes striking illustrations of the essentially native character of the selected delegates. Of the eight clergymen elected delegates, six are natives. Fifteen of the eighteen were born and bred in Hawaii, of the remaining three, two have been here since childhood, while the third is a man of long residence, thoroughly identified with the country and the country of his adoption.

President Davis has issued a proclamation calling upon the delegates and other members of the constitutional convention to convene on the 30th instant, to restore the constitution of 1888 and restores that of 1890, giving the king the right to appoint one-third of the members of the chamber of deputies. With the restoration of the old constitution, the royal executive is restored. The king has been compelled to give up his prerogative of dissolving the legislature, and the executive power of proposing laws is given to the king. The king has taken this step upon the advice of his father, King Kalakaua. Upon the orders of the king, Premier Nicolaus will at once recognize the constitution of 1888, which instrument, it is believed, will be upheld by the royal executive board.

The king has issued a proclamation calling upon the members of the royal executive board to meet at the residence of the prime minister, Dr. Alexander, and to swear to the constitution of 1888, which has been enacted under that instrument, which includes the guarantee of freedom of the press, the right to hold public assemblies and to maintain secret and other societies and the privilege of local administration.
